The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 36-50, 52 and 53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 36, line 13, "first smaller cavities" is indefinite since it is unclear what the cavities are smaller than. The Examiner suggests deleting ", smaller."

In claim 49, line 8, "first smaller cavities" is indefinite since it is unclear what the cavities are smaller than. The Examiner suggests deleting ", smaller."

In claim 52, line 6, it is unclear if the temperature controller is the same as or different from the controller found in claim 51. On line 7, the phrase "to regulate the injection molding machine at different temperatures adjacent the first and second separation planes" is indefinite since it is unclear if the temperature controller is adjacent the separation planes. The Examiner suggests amending claim 52 as follows: line 2, after "side" insert a comma; line 6, change "further comprising a" to --said--; line 7, delete "injection molding machine at different temperatures adjacent the"; line 8, after "planes" insert --at different temperatures--.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claim 51 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by either Kotzab or Jung.

Kotzab discloses first and second mold portions having cooling channels 3, the mold portions defining a separation plane (shown with opposed arrows in Fig.1) where different areas of the separation plane at different temperatures due to the coolant heating along its path of travel.

Jung discloses a single die 5 having a number of loops at which different temperatures must be controlled. See column 1, lines 25-28.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 49 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sorensen et al. in view of Shimizu et al.

Sorensen et al. in Figs. 14A-14L disclose the claimed invention with the exception of two injectors feeding the mold cavities.

Shimizu et al. teaches separate injectors to feed first and second mold cavities to be well known when injection molding a composite article. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide two injectors to feed the first and second mold cavities of Sorensen et al. as suggested by Shimizu in order to form a composite injection molded article.

Claims 36-48 and 50 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Claims 52 and 53 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The above claims define over the prior art since the prior art fails to disclose or suggest the injection molding apparatus having the first and second temperature control elements as well as the limitations found in claim 52 as proposed by the Examiner.
